Company Updates

As February comes to a close, let's take a moment to celebrate everything we accomplished together this month. From finishing multiple jobs to the moments of teamwork and connection that define our culture, this month has been one to remember.

February may have been short, but it was filled with meaningful progress. Thank you for everything you brought to this month. Let's carry this momentum into March and continue building on the successes we've achieved!

Our Service Department hit a record-breaking quarter, securing major contracts with Hillsborough County and Duke Energy! This achievement is a testament to the hard work and leadership of Alex Howell (Service Residential Manager), Ben Geis (Service Commercial Manager), and Edwin Cajigas (Service Lighting Manager). Most importantly, none of this would be possible without our dedicated electricians, who put in the extra effort and hours to make it happen. Thank you all for your hard work—let's keep the momentum going!

Project Spotlight

The Pici and Son's Builders - Hickey Residence project.

This project was spearheaded by Matthew Ausburn, with Jimmy Acosta serving as the Project Manager.

We installed a stunning custom chandelier in a luxury home, creating a perfect blend of elegance and function. With expert wiring, precise positioning, and seamless installation, this statement piece now enhances the space with warmth and sophistication. Another shining example of how the right lighting transforms a home!

Employee Spotlight

This month, we're excited to spotlight Juan Cobos, our dedicated Service Department Dispatcher, who has been with Erwin Electric for a year.

Before joining us, Juan had a successful career in pharmaceutical manufacturing, serving as the Director of Quality for Magellan Pharmaceuticals and consulting for other industry leaders. He was introduced to Erwin Electric by a current employee who spoke highly of the company, and he quickly became a valued team member.

Juan finds daily motivation in helping contractors, designers, and homeowners with their electrical needs. Being part of a company that takes pride in assisting others gives him a strong sense of purpose and drives his commitment to his role.

Beyond serving customers, Juan appreciates Erwin Electric's supportive and collaborative environment, where teamwork is at the heart of everything.

We're proud to have him on our team and grateful for his hard work and dedication!
